

REVISED: With the move to outdoor training, live indoor training sessions have been discontinued, so the schedule has been removed from the newsletter. We apologize for the confusion.

Dear La Roca Family,

We were so excited last week when Utah Youth Soccer and the Utah Department of Health approved team sports training in small groups. Hopefully, your child's coach has contacted you about his/her plans for resuming training.

With last week's announcement, La Roca assumed that we could move forward with tryouts, and we were all set to announce tryout schedules when Utah Youth Soccer asked all clubs to postpone tryouts until early June. UYSA believes that Utah will soon transition into the Low Risk or Yellow Phase of the Coronavirus plan which will allow larger group gatherings and open up more fields where tryouts can take place.

While we are disappointed about having to delay tryouts, we realize that it would be much better if we could hold tryouts without all the restrictions currently in place. Plus, the delay will give our players a chance to get back on the pitch and put in a few solid weeks of training before tryouts. That's worth the wait!

In the meantime, we will continue to keep you posted about tryouts and other news that impacts our club families and players through this weekly club-wide newsletter. More time-sensitive news will be posted on our social media pages, so please follow La Roca on our social media pages:

Today's newsletter includes:

- Latest statements/notices from UYSA
- Tryout registration links and Why You Should Play for La Roca
- Reveal of last week's mystery coach: Trent Davies
- New Guess Who? mystery coach
- La Roca players featured in the news (Fox 13 Utah and KSL 5)

Updates from UYSA

On May 6 Utah Youth Soccer Association issued a statement about the return to training and the guidelines which players and coaches must follow:

Mystery Coach Revealed: TRENT DAVIES

Meet the La Roca mystery coach:

TRENT DAVIES

Correct guess submitted by La Roca player RYLEE LLOYD

#WeAreLaRocaFamily

This week's La Roca mystery coach is TRENT DAVIES, coach of La Roca Spanish Fork girls U12 team. The correct guess was submitted by La Roca player Rylee Lloyd. Good job, Rylee!

Trent is the oldest of 3 children and grew up in Spanish Fork where he loved playing all sports, especially soccer, baseball, basketball, football, and golf. He is a Real Salt Lake fan, has a college degree in Accounting, and currently works in the construction business. His favorite comfort food is actually a beverage, Pepsi, and he probably drinks lots of it when he's vacationing in his favorite destination - Lake Powell. Trent loves being called dad by his 4 kids and watching classic movies like Man from Snowy River and Back to the Future III.

Guess the new Mystery Coach

Guess who . . .

- Grew up on a ranch with 3000 cattle, 20 horses and 8 kids
- Played several sports growing up
- Holds degrees in Economics and Accounting
- Has 3 kids
- Loves FC Barcelona and Didier Drogba

Who is this mystery coach?
